

I believe the FCC should do whatever is possible to limit the number of media outlets one entity can own. This is crucial to the diversification and local authenticity that supports our democracy. Plus it is the heritage of radio to serve local communities. The airwaves are a public resource. Keep them that way.